KUMKUM FERNANDO

Kiko's Secrets

2015
Mixed media installation with sound

Kumkum Fernando invites us to broaden our minds by entering the magical worlds hidden within three secret boxes and beyond. Follow our protagonist Kiko on a journey of discovery, in this work inspired by the wonder that children experience as they explore the world around them. For the artist, Kiko's Secrets seeks to recreate these sensations for both young and old alike.

BAND OF DOODLERS

Imagin-a-doodle

2015
Onsite illustration

With illustrations sprawling across the walls and winding up the four levels of the building, this work brings to life a fantastical storytelling of Singapore's folklore and an inventive vision of the future. As we journey through vividly animated scenes, a sense of the limitless possibilities of stories yet to be written, and told, abounds.

IZZIYANA SUHAIMI

Let's Make! Studio

2015
Mixed media

For artist Izziyana Suhaimi, sewing and embroidery are meaningful and symbolic ways of enfolding time as well as the creativity and actions of the maker. Her installation invites visitors to create small objects using textiles, which capture their thoughts about the future of the country. Over time, the artwork becomes a collective tapestry of dreams, weaving together our shared future.

LEE JEEYOUNG

Dream House

2015
Mixed media installation

Filling a house with candy that visitors are invited to take and 'plant' in a garden, Lee Jeeyoung presents these sweet treats as symbols of a child's wishes and desires. Over time, the work is gradually transformed into a garden in full bloom. Dream House is a delightful space where our inner wishes for the future can be projected, and be encouraged to flourish.

CHIANG YU XIANG

We Built this Estate!

2015
Mixed media installation

For a child, the world is a giant playground. This work invites children to be architects, builders and master-planners of their own housing estate and city skyline, two ubiquitous features in urban Singapore. With housing blocks designed like giant Tetris pieces, visitors are free to create whatever they can imagine, and build a world of tomorrow.

TAKASHI KURIBAYASHI

Trees

2015
Mixed media installation

Takashi Kuribayashi has created an installation comprising glass boxes filled with parts of a tree that had been chopped down to make way for redevelopment. His work reminds us how nature often exists in very controlled environments in cities such as Singapore. Over time, the sections of the tree trunk will decay, and in the process give life to new organisms and ecosystems, so that each glass box will hold a tiny world of its own.

VINCENT TWARDZIK CHING

Greenroom II: Interstellar Overdrive

2015
Bicycles, generators, LEDs and stereo equipment

Activated only through interaction between the artwork and the visitors, this work prompts us to think of how our future cities might be powered, and how this might change our lives. As the title Greenroom II: Interstellar Overdrive suggests, we are reminded that within this universe, there are still infinite potential resources and more thoughtful ways of living, still waiting to be discovered.

imaginarium

A Voyage of Big Ideas

Come celebrate Singapore's 50th birthday with us at SAM as we launch Imaginarium: A Voyage of Big Ideas, an exhibition for everyone and anyone with a head for ideas and a heart for adventure!

Imaginarium is the new edition of SAM's much-loved annual contemporary art exhibition for children, begun in 2010 and now in its fifth year. In the spirit of SG50, this year's exhibition is inspired by the crescent moon on the Singapore flag, a symbol of a young nation on the rise with the capacity to dream big and think large. What might we be able to envision and aspire to? What worlds could we imagine for ourselves and create for others? With interactive and immersive artworks and hands-on activities at every turn, Imaginarium offers creative space where inspiration can bloom freely and joyfully!

Featuring artists from Singapore and the region, Imaginarium beckons the adventurers, the dreamers, and the explorers of today to embark on a journey of discovery, and together, sail towards exciting new horizons...

Imaginarium Preview Afternoon

Awaken from your weekend nap to a special 4-hour preview of Imaginarium with free entry to the exhibition at SAM at 8Q. Enjoy childhood snacks from a variety of food stalls and support young talent at the Children's Craft Fair where children sell hand-made pieces at no more than $2 each.

With the sales proceeds going to charity, this is a rare opportunity to grab unique souvenirs and encourage creativity, entrepreneurship and goodwill from a young age.

Saturday, 14 March
Preview | 3pm to 7pm
Children's Craft Fair | 4pm to 6pm

The Original Selfie Machine

The Original Selfie Machine has landed at the lobby of SAM at 8Q! What is this magical contraption that can capture your likeness so well? The best selfie taken each month stands to win a special prize from ground control.

Lobby, SAM at 8Q
$2 for four chances to perfect your look!

Passport to the Moon!

Travel through time and space with this limited-edition passport as you make your way around Imaginarium. Featuring artists' impressions, fun facts and leading questions, come discover and explore realms of new possibilities through your very own personalised passport and work your way to being a fully certified citizen of the Moon – a Moonwalker!

Available for sale at SAM at 8Q front desk.

*Note: This event is exclusive to teachers only. Tour will not proceed if total sign-up rate is below minimum number of participants. Registration opens till 24 March 2015.

School Workshops

Educational workshops inspired by the artworks at Imaginarium have been specially developed to offer students a multidisciplinary and holistic contemporary art experience. These workshops range from learning specific art techniques to craft-making that encourage originality, the development of language skills and self-confidence.

Weekdays | 10 am or 2:30pm | SAM at 8Q

For more information, refer to www.singaporeartmuseum.sg.

Art Workshops

Immerse yourself in the world of imagination and participate in hands-on art workshops. Join us for an afternoon of art-making and come up-close to some of the artists from Imaginarium.

Tickets available at SAM and SISTIC. Limited spaces.
